

Jose Gomez

- Jose Gomez is a Ph.D. student in the College of Engineering and Computing at the University of South Carolina. Jose's research focuses on P4 programmable data planes, TCP congestion control, passive measurements and buffer sizing. Currently, Jose is working at the Cyber Infrastructure lab developing a system based on P4 switches to improve the fairness of flows with different Round-trip Times (RTTs) in legacy networks.

