Matthew Hall

- Matthew Hall is the Vice President for Information Technology and Chief Information Officer at UCF. Prior to joining University of Central Florida, Matt was the University of California-Santa Barbara's (UCSB) Senior Associate Vice Chancellor for Information Technology. He also served as UCSB's Cyber Risk Responsible Executive. He served for two years as both the University of California System-Wide Information Security Committee Sponsor and the Chair of the University of California's IT Leadership Council. Previously, Matt held positions at Koch Industries International, Microsoft, Bank of America, and Vanderbilt University, including academic appointments as an Associate Professor of the Practice of Computer Science in Engineering and a Faculty Fellow in the English department. He also held sworn law enforcement positions at both the Williamson County Sheriff's Office and the Tennessee Bureau of Investigation. Matt holds information assurance certifications, including CISSP, Computer Hacking Forensic Investigator, and Security+.