Vladimir Gurevich

Vladimir Gurevich is a Principal Engineer at Intel and the Director of Intel Connectivity Education Hub. Before joining Intel, Vladimir was a Technical Lead at Barefoot Networks. Vladimir also worked as a Technical Director at Broadcom before that he was a Senior Manager leading the SW Applications Engineering team. He was also one of the founders and key contributors to the comprehensive engineering training program (Broadcom University). He worked as a Software Developer at Cisco Systems and other networking companies in Silicon Valley. Vladimir received his Master's degree in Applied Mathematics at Moscow Institute of Radio Engineering, Electronics, and Automation (МИРЭА).